

COURSE INFORMATION

CHC33015 Certificate III in Individual Support

Become a valued and integral part of the health and community services industry with this intermediate level qualification.

Gain the practical skills and knowledge needed to work in a community or residential setting providing individual support.

You will learn how to support independence and well-being, gain a range of technical skills, and develop a range of transferable skills from communication to teamwork. Our highly-experienced trainers provide guidance and support every step of the way, to ensure you have the knowledge and skills needed to succeed in the field.

The health, aged care and community services sector is predicted to experience strong growth over the next five years with an excess of 50,000 job openings expected. This is due to an increased demand for aged care support and support for people with a disability through the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

Successful completion of this course will enable you to work in aged care or disability support. It will also give you the knowledge to undertake further studies in the community services and health sectors.
